A VERY SCARY STORY

Hi! I'm Gregory.

I live in Magic Street.

My family is not small: mum, dad, two brothers, a sister, and a grandma.

I live in a big house and I've got my own room. I've got a blue lamp, a yellow bed, a small crystal ball, and a big orange book about magic. I've also got a green toybox. And fifteen toys in it. The toybox isn't new. It's not in my room. It's in the attic.

One day...

- Can I go to the attic, mum?
- Why, Gregory?
- To play with my toys.
- Yes, you can, but take your sister with you.
- Oh, no, mum!
- You are eight. She is only five.
- Oh, no, mum!
- Listen to me Gregory! Take her with you!
- OK, mum!

In the attic...

- Boo-boo! You are not a good boy, Gregory! Nina is your sister. Let her play with your toys.
- Who are you?
- Boo... Gregory, open the toybox! Give all your toys to Nina!
- That's not funny. Stop it!
- Boo...

In the room...

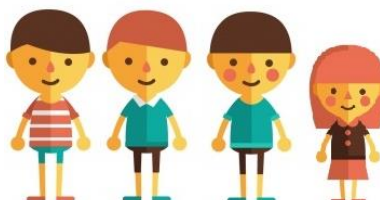

- Wake up, Gregory! It's time for school.
- Oh, it's only a bad dream. Thanks, mum.

A Great Painter

Mr. Octopus is a painter. He is painting a nice picture.

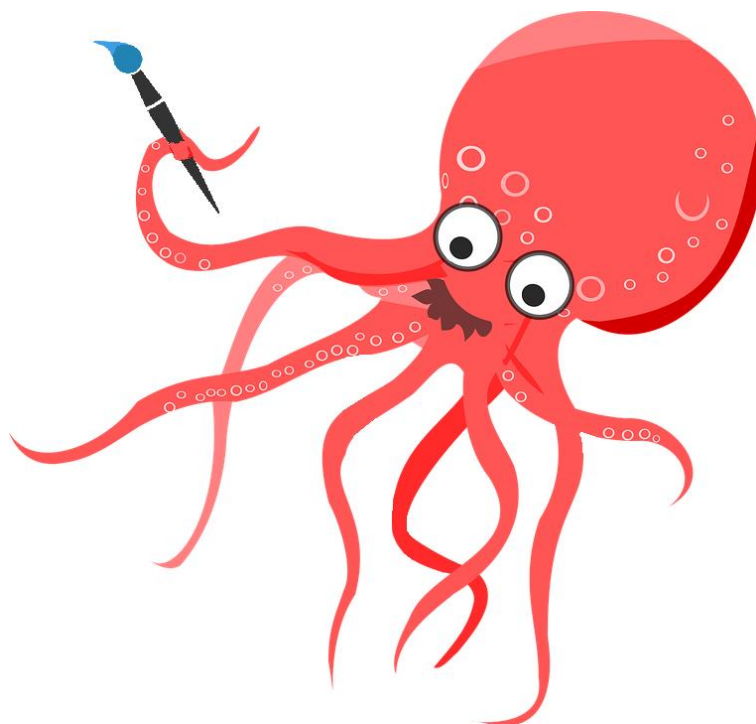

There is a big green tree and lots of yellow flowers in the picture.

There is a white castle in the picture and there's a princess in front of the castle.

She is wearing a beautiful purple dress.

There is a big green dragon with three heads in the picture, too.

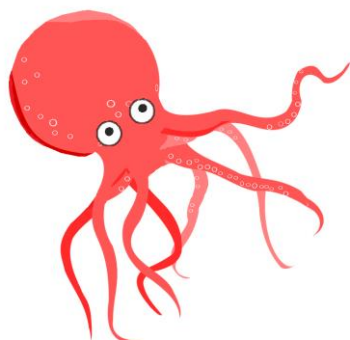

He is sleeping behind the castle.

Mr. Octopus has got a little son.

The baby octopus is standing next to his father who is sitting on the chair.

- Can I paint, dad? – asks the baby octopus.
- Why not! – says his dad. – What's your favourite colour?
- Pink – says the baby octopus.
- Then mix the red and white.

– Wow! – The baby octopus paints a big pink heart and five pink stars around it.

– There are five stars because I'm 5 – says the baby octopus. – And there's a big heart because I love you so much, dad.

Mr. Octopus is very proud of his son.

– I love you, too, dear. You are my great painter!

The baby octopus jumps high, almost touching the sky. He is very happy.
